

“Sweet Love Tale”

By Luke Granstrand – Class of 2008

Betty was a cheerleader
And Johnny was a jock.
People could tell they loved each other,
Cause they were together ‘round the clock.

One day Betty saw John
Hanging with her best friend Jill.
She watched them making out,
The sight of it left her feeling so ill.

Betty quickly dumped her boy-toy,
And soon got over the loss.
But John didn’t take it so well
And their love he could not toss.

She realized he wouldn’t give up
Which forced her to seek help fast.
She went to see her counselor
Who told her this stalking would not last.

She took the counselor’s advice,
But the calls from John did not stop.
So she sought help from a detective,
Just like in Kindergarten Cop.

Betty got a restraining order
And John was suspended from school
When Betty looked back on their fun
She said, “I was such a fool.”

Betty continued to get help and talk
Everyday at school with friends and a nun.
She made great progress compared to John,
Who found his solution on the trigger of a gun.

The warning signs were there,
But no one cared about the obsessive male.
His addictive relationship ended his life
Along with his sweet love tale.
